

Meet Melissa Olson

Lissa Olson was born and raised in Anderson, Indiana and has lived in North Carolina and Florida, before moving back to Lancaster 2 years ago.

Lissa has a background in psychology, program administration and was a licensed counselor for women's issues, drugs and alcohol. She has owned her own business, providing administrative services to professionals. Lissa's background and her varied life experiences, make a perfect fit for the services she provides clients at NTI.

Lissa, what else would you like your clients to know about you?

I am married to my husband, Bob, for 27 years. I have one natural child, 3 step-children and 7 grandchildren.

How do you like to spend your free time?

I enjoy foreign films, reading and stimulating conversations with friends. My passions include promoting sustainable agriculture and micro loans to help alleviate world poverty.

What was your childhood dream?

Hey, I grew up in the 50's when you were taught the best option for a girl was to get married, so that was my ambition. It didn't take too many years for that to change, but...

What is your proudest accomplishment?

Most awe inspiring: the birth of my child. Proudest: Seeing him as an adult, acting with integrity and conviction!

Ok, tell us something most people don't know about you?

Before moving back to Lancaster, my husband and I lived on our sailboat for several years, sailing the Intra Coastal Waterway.

What has been your most significant learning experience?

Experiencing the "heart knowing" there is a God and that a Higher Power is actively at work in my life. Learning that I am the only person that I can change and in a relationship, my responsibility is to treat the other person with respect and to do the right thing, as best as I can determine it.

Why did you decide to join the NTI Group?

I was asked by Bill Tell to be part of his growing business. I am excited to work with him.

What is the best comment a client gave you about your services?

"We have never worked with anyone who was so responsive and fixed things so quickly."
